

DMCS Newsletter February 14, 2019

Dear Parents-

One day until Spring Break! I hope that more 'spring-like' weather appears soon. The last few days has made me think about the story of Noah's Ark! All that rain sure is frustrating. Hopefully today's field trips are providing some needed active time. I know students have been very excited!

The end of our third quarter is closing in. Three fourths of the school year will be gone as of March 29th. Report cards will be sent home on Thursday, April 4th. Please take some time to look these over and have conversations with your child about ways they have made you proud and ways they could do better. These goal-setting conversations are great learning opportunities where students learn that life is a journey, not a one-shot show. We all continue to work to become the best version of ourselves.

April and May bring the busiest two months of the school year as we rush to the finish line of May 31st. There are many activities and events planned during those weeks. It is important to keep up to date with teacher newsletters, notes, and communications from the office. Some important things to ask yourself are:

- ♣ Have I completed the link to acknowledge my child's attendance in school for next year?
- ♣ Have I registered any new children I have coming to school next year?
- ♣ Have I signed up for summer care programs and camps?

We are busy preparing for next school year. The more information I have, the better I can plan. Thank you for communicating with us!

As we near Spring Break, I wish all of you rest and relaxation. It has been a very challenging winter. May the time off from school allow you and your family opportunities to connect and enjoy each other's company. The school office will be closed for the entire week. Please keep this in mind for Scrip purchases, etc. We look forward to welcoming everyone back on Monday, March 27th!

God Bless You!

Gina Ashley
